Sustainability & Transparency

...our philosophy

Guarantee of origin, transparency and aesthetics, our own manufacturing processes – because in life it's all about love, honesty and style.

Our promises:

- products development and their constant supervision is situated in Switzerland
- traceability of all Sola products
- all manufacturing processes are 100% transparent
- we know our business partners personally and cooperate close with them
- using our products without any useless worries

From metal to cutlery & from raw material to end product

Sustainability and ethics are more than just two buzzwords – throughout the years they have become our everyday task. We focus on traceability of raw materials and close cooperation with the manufacturers. We start where the law ends – that's the philosophy of Sola / Lunasol / Lusol.

In our opinion, quality doesn't refer only to the design but to the permanent supervision of manufacturing processes as well. Metal products are matter of trust – and trust has to be earned.

We have been working with our partners for a long time in order to develop a system that meets customer's requirements and provide them with valuable products. Therefore you can feel comfortable with the Sola/Lunasol brand. We know which factory the product comes from, we do even know which foundry the raw material comes from and monitor the complex manufacturing process. That is the guarantee of origin as we understand it.
